JUST WHAT IS IN STORE FOR THOSE WHO STRAY?

DISAPPEARING OFF THE FACE OF THE EARTH DAVID COHEN

TRANSIT LOUNGE, RRP $23

Ken Guy runs a storage facility on the fringes of Brisbane, and he's feeling quite hopeful. After a bit of a checkered work and life history, it seems things might be starting to go his way. Business is steady, and he's in the promising early stages of a relationship. But just down the road, Pharaoh's Tomb Self Storage — a national chain that could put him out of business — is building a new facility. And Bruce — a former work colleague who got him involved in some dodgy practices in the past — reappears. At the start it seems as if he's a useful addition, but strange things start to happen, often at odd times of the night. People are disappearing, and the one thing that connects them is his storage facility. And why are there so many flickering florescent lights everywhere? Described as a "surprisingly funny study of physical and mental deterioration", this book is one of the oddest books I've read. It is funny at times, engrossing throughout, and really quite disturbing. This is Brisbane writer David Cohen's second novel. CORINNA HENTE
